Companies with less than three employees in their base year, or those that have achieved headboard growth through acquisitions, were omitted.

There are 482 active, high-growth companies in Nottinghamshire, which secured a total of £437m of equity investment via 326 deals from 2012 to 2021. Technology sectors — particularly software-as-a-service (SaaS) and life sciences — are among the top sectors within the region.

Many of Nottinghamshire's ambitious businesses are also rapidly growing their headcount, together employing nearly 72k people; this shows the immense value that these dynamic companies can provide to a region.
